We Won!!!

It is with great pleasure to advise that we took home 'the gong' on Friday night at The Express' 2009 Business Achiever Awards.

The club was nominated in the Community Service and Education category - up against 3 other competitors.

Attached is a picture of a very proud Julie with our award. The Express have also said there will be pictures from the night available to be viewed on their website today - www.theexpress.com.au under the Gallery section.

Lauren Christie

Proposals

“Sir, I would like to marry your daughter.” “Well, young man, can you support a family?” “I believe so, Sir.” “Are you sure - there are eight of us.”

“I have been asked to get married hundreds of times.” “By anybody I know?” “Well, Mum and Dad usually.”

“Darling, when we get married, I want to share your troubles and burdens.” “But I don't have any troubles or burdens.” “We're not married yet, darling.”

The Real Estate Game

The trouble with the recent dust storm was that all that land changed hands, and no-one got a cent commission out of it.

A day after taking a lease on a unit, the woman rang the real estate agent and demanded that he come over. "What's the problem?" he asked on arrival. "It's the trains", she said, "they shake my bed something terrible!" "Surely not," said the agent, giving the bed an experimental shove. "The 3:30 is due any moment; lie down and see for yourself." When the woman's husband came home early, and found the agent on the bed, he demanded to know why. "Would you believe waiting for a train?" came the response.
